

SENATE FOES AGAIN ASSAIL PEACE TREATY

Committee Approves Three More Textual Amendments

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The treaty of peace was aggressively assailed by its senate foes again today, the foreign relations committee approving three more textual amendments to its provisions and Senator Knox of Pennsylvania, a Republican member of the committee and former secretary of state, advising the senate that the only safe way to deal with it was to reject it altogether.

Vote Same on Amendments.
Acting by a vote of nine to eight in each case the committee adopted without extended debate amendments designed to equalize British and American representation in the league of nations, to prevent the British dominions from participating in a league decision affecting any one of them, and to curtail the power of the American representative on the reparations commission which is to collect Germany's reparations bill.

Democratic committee members presented a solid front against all of the proposals and were joined by Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, who also had voted against the two amendments adopted prior to today's session. Only one proposed amendment now remains on the committee calendar, when consideration of the subject is resumed early next week. In his senate address, Senator Knox declared that the full purpose of American participation in the war had been accomplished with the armistice, and that there had been no reason for projecting the nation into the European settlements. He said a complete peace basis could be established by action of congress as soon as three of the other principal powers had ratified the treaty and that such a course would free the country from many dangerous possibilities of foreign entanglement.

Says Terms Constitute "Truce."
The peace terms imposed on Germany said the Pennsylvania senator went beyond the pale of international law and would be impossible of enforcement. He characterized them as constituting "not the treaty but the truce of Versailles" and as laying the foundation "for centuries of blood-letting."

During the day another of the treaties negotiated at Versailles was sent to the senate by President Wilson. It was the treaty made with Poland by the principal powers and signed on June 28. With it the president sent an agreement for occupation of the Rhine signed by the United States and other powers on the same day.

No Reference to Reques.
Submission of the Polish treaty to the senate, and other data was requested in a letter sent to the White House several days ago by the foreign relations committee but to this request the president made no reference in his letter of transmittal.

Attention was called to the subject, however, in a brief statement by Chairman Lodge in the senate and later Mr. Lodge made public the letter of request. The data called for and not received by the committee included another and previous Rhine agreement and any available drafts of the treaties now under negotiation with Austria, Bulgaria, Turkey and Hungary. Committee members pointed out that a long statement by M. Clemenceau as president of the peace conference, attached to British and French official copies of the Polish treaty was not included in the copy sent in today by the president.

Put Print of Air Pact in Record.
A British print of still another Versailles treaty, an air convention between the United States and various other nations was put into the senate record by Senator Knox. An explanatory note heading the convention said it had not been signed but was being given to the public for their information.

Mr. Knox said this plan apparently had been followed out in every country except the United States. At a public hearing today the committee received the cases of India, Lithuania, Estonia, Latvia and Latvia. Dudley Field Malone of New York, appearing for Hindu organizations, told the committee that Great Britain used India at Versailles merely to increase her voting power, while she was tightening her "despotic" rule over the Indian population.

First Action on Covenant.
The two amendments adopted today regarding representation in the league of nations constituted the first action to be taken on the league covenant, were regarded as indicating that no attempt would be made by the committee majority to strike out the covenant altogether.

Meat Price Drop Not Yet Felt By Consumers

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Altho hogs have declined slightly better than $3 a hundred pounds in three days, and dressed beef was down, $2 a hundred pounds in the wholesale markets today, with general bearish sentiment prevailing, consumers in Chicago today had gained no benefits from that lower price.

The retail price of beef, pork and mutton continued high, the mutton was down with beef and pork in the wholesale markets. The drop in live hog prices at the stock yards today was about 50 cents below yesterday's general average.

"Wholesale beef prices have shown an almost steady decline for almost four months," according to a statement from H. H. Swift, vice president of Swift & Co., today. "Our company's average wholesale price in Chicago, the week ending May 3 was $29.91. The week ending August 16, it was $17.54, against $16.63 for the week ending August 23."

"This is the time of the year too, when the heavy shipments of grass fed cattle begin to arrive. Couple this with the slackened demand in consuming centers, caused in great part by continued agitation and the drop in prices is explained."

"Mutton and lamb wholesale prices also are off considerably, there having been a drop of about $1.20 a hundred in the last week, and these lowered prices are also no doubt, being reflected to the consumer by the retailer."

COMMITTEE WILL EXAMINE PERSHING

PARIS, Aug. 29.—General Pershing will be examined tomorrow by the war expenditures investigation committee of congress. It is understood that in addition to questions of a general character regarding the disposition of surplus stocks he will be asked about attacks made on the Germans by American troops the day after the armistice was signed, and other features of military operations.

The destruction of material owned by the American expeditionary forces in France is receiving particular attention from the war expenditure investigating committee of congress which inquired into the burning of $1,000,000 worth of aviation stock at Colomb-la-Belle and the destruction of motor vehicles at Remarin.

APPEALS TO PAPERS NOT TO PRINT STORY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—American newspapers were appealed today by Senator Chamberlain, Democrat of Oregon, not to publish the story of the war written by General Ludendorff, quartermaster general of the German army. Senator Chamberlain told the senate that several newspapers had announced that they would publish it.

"I hope the newspapers," he said, "will without any act of congress decline absolutely to print this story of the German general largely responsible for the kind of warfare conducted by Germany."

"I trust it will not be done," interjected Senator Lodge, Republican, of Massachusetts.

CONSENT TO INCREASE OF GERMAN TROOPS

COPENHAGEN, Thurs., Aug. 28.—A dispatch from Berlin says Marshal Poch has notified the German armistice commission that the supreme council has consented to a provisional increase of the German gendarmerie troops in the neutral zone beyond the Rhine for three months after the peace treaty comes into effect as the force needed to enforce the treaty is considered inadequate to maintain order.

PRIZE FIGHTER DIES AFTER BOUT

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 29.—Frank Heifling of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., a prize fighter, died in the city hospital here today as the result of injuries sustained in a prize fight last night. His opponent, K. O. Circus of Pittsburgh, was held in $1,000 bail.

Circus landed a short right hook, catching Heifling square on the jaw in the eighth round and felled him. Referee Lewis counted ten and the spectators thought Heifling had merely been knocked out.

ESTABLISH CREDIT IN FAVOR OF ITALY

Washington, Aug. 29.—A credit of $9,100,000 established today in favor of Italy, made the total advance to that country $1,601,775,945 and to the allies $9,672,272,567.

but that reservations to it would be recommended to the senate.

COAST RAILWAY STRIKERS GOING BACK TO WORK

Return of Frisco Yard Crews Marks Final Stage of Collapse

BULLETIN
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—By a slight majority 2,000 switchmen and yardmen who have been on strike, voted to return to work tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock.

The vote was taken at a mass meeting tonight which was addressed by A. F. Whitney, international vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Following the vote those who balked not to return to work declared that, despite the result, they would not return to work.

A meeting of those opposed to returning was called.

BULLETIN

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 29.—The four local brotherhoods, including trainmen, conductors, engineers and firemen, following a meeting here tonight, voted by a two-thirds majority to return to work at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 29.—Heeding the announcement of the government that it would run the trains at all costs after 7 o'clock tomorrow morning, and the determination of United States Marshal Walton of Los Angeles that all trains in the strike area would be given adequate protection railroad strikers were beginning to return through Southern California today.

Save Critical Situation.
What was regarded as a critical situation in the fruit transportation in the Fresno district was averted when the striking yard men and switchmen determined to return to work tomorrow. Following a visit by A. F. Whitney, a vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, striking workers at San Bernardino expressed a willingness to return to work.

The strike through central California which had paralyzed transportation for two days reached its final stages of collapse when the yard crews returned to the passenger and freight terminals in San Francisco at 8 o'clock today.

Barslow Conditions Grave.

The situation at Barslow was considered grave, trainmen there having flatly refused to obey the orders of their superior officers in the railroad brotherhoods, according to reports. A. F. Whitney, international vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, who arrived late today stated after a conference with M. E. Montgomery, a representative of the engineers he was certain the men would return to work before morning. He added that he felt they were being influenced by persons with Bolshevik tendencies.

"The strike is illegal and absolutely without sanction of the brotherhoods," Mr. Whitney said. "I hope the men will return to work. If they don't their places will be taken by other members of the brotherhood who can be summoned here in short order."

Strikers Hold Meetings.

The striking trainmen held meetings today by early tonight had given out no official statement indicating what action would be taken. Unofficially it was stated a rift in the ranks of the strikers exists.

The conservative element according to reports is in favor of returning to work, while the radicals are said to have stated that they will not return until the object for which they struck—the reinstatement of Pacific Electric trainmen who are on strike, with full seniority rights—is attained.

U. S. RECOGNIZES GOVERNMENT OF PERU

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Recognition of the de facto government of Peru was announced today by the state department. Secretary Lansing instructed the American legation at Lima to advise the minister of foreign affairs that the United States recognizes President Leguia as head of the de facto government of Peru.

The attitude of the United States toward the new Peruvian government had been awaited with interest because of the manner in which it came into power. In the case of former regime in Costa Rica, the administration policy was set forth that United States would recognize no government founded on force.

JEWELERS ELECT

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Arthur A. Everts of Dallas, Texas, was elected president of the American National Retail Jewelers' Association today. A. W. Anderson, Neenah, Wis., was chosen secretary and Walter H. Meller, Michigan City, Ind., treasurer.

Governor's Meet Gives High Price War New Impetus

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—New impetus was given the government's campaign to reduce the cost of living at conferences here today which assured the closest co-operation between federal and state authorities.

Study Question With Palmer.
Six governors, Gardner, Missouri; Milliken, Maine; Burnquist, Minnesota; Campbell, Arizona; Sprout, Pennsylvania; and Cooper, South Carolina, and Lieutenant Governor McDowell of Montana, representing the National Conference of Governors, spent several hours studying the situation with Attorney General Palmer and then called at the White House to offer President Wilson the full machinery of the states in the effort to restore a normal price level.

As a result there was greater optimism in the capital tonight over the outlook than has been evident in many days. With the far reaching state organizations carrying the message of economy and increased production into every county and aiding the federal authorities in bringing to justice hoarders and profiteers officials believed excellent results could be obtained in the next 90 days which would avert the menace of transportation strikes to obtain higher wages.

Committee Announces Facts.
"After our meetings today with the president and the attorney general," the committee of governors announced, "certain facts are clear: 1. That all the people of the nation and all organizations should immediately co-operate for the purpose of increasing the production of the necessities of life."

"2. That economy in consumption and care in purchasing the necessities of life are equally important with production."

"3. That every agency of the federal and state governments should co-operate forthwith to prevent profiteering."

"The attorney general has assured us that he will pursue under existing and proposed laws all profiteers."

Endorse Palmer's Suggestion.
"The suggestion of the attorney general that a fair price commissioner be appointed in each of the states and fair price committees in the different localities of the states, upon the nominations of the governors, was endorsed."

"While the attorney general expressed a desire to rely upon the assistance of community efforts in the direction of the elimination of profiteering thru local fair price committees he gave assurance that when such efforts were not forthcoming and results were not satisfactory his department would handle these questions directly."

"The attorney general was assured that every state agency which could be of service in this emergency was placed at his command and he was at liberty to call for any information and assistance he desired from the state authorities."

Results of the conferences here will be communicated immediately to every governor by Miles C. Riley, secretary of the national conference.

ORDER MINERS TO RETURN TO WORK

BELLEVILLE, Ill., Aug. 29.—Two thousand insurgent miners of eight locals in this sub-district tonight were ordered to return to work tomorrow by officials of the respective locals to avoid revocation of their charters.

Strike Leaders Sanction Move.
Springfield, Ill., Aug. 29.—Invasion of Southern Illinois coal fields by an "insurgent army" to further insurgent strike cause was sanctioned by strike leaders here tonight.

Lawrence Lamb, chairman of the state policy committee of insurgent mine workers, said the projected march from Belleville into Franklin, Williamson, Saline and other counties was only "one method to be used in acquainting miners of the state with the facts."

He declared the fight had resolved itself into a campaign to oust Frank Farrington, president of the accredited organization and fellow officials because they had ceased to represent the rank and file.

Mr. Lamb said the insurgent policy committee would meet again in this city Monday to make further plans for extending the strike. Insurgents of the Springfield sub-district also plan a meeting here for tomorrow morning.

President Farrington of the "regulars" when advised of the proposed march of Belleville sub-district miners said he feared trouble if the excursion became a reality.

BRYAN PRESENTS NEW RAILROAD PLAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—William Jennings Bryan today laid before the house interstate commerce committee his dual plan of state and federal ownership of railway lines as a solution of the railroad reorganization problem. In doing so, the former secretary of state denounced private ownership of the railroads as indefensible and intolerable and characterized railroad magnates as political corruptionists.

"We have never tried government ownership," declared Mr. Bryan, referring to the railroad administration. "A subsidized newspaper never thinks to tell that the government took over the railroads when the private owners could not run them. The government has been only in control and the roads in the hands of those who wanted to see government ownership fail as they could get the roads."

FILE BANKRUPTCY PETITION
Chicago, Aug. 29.—As an aftermath of the disappearance some time ago of Herman Blumson, a miller who started with an expensive wardrobe and virtually no cash and soon became head of a large milling concern, the Star Cereal & Milling Company thru its attorney today filed a voluntary bankruptcy petition. The liabilities were given as $364,000 and the assets at $225,000. Four banks were the chief creditors.

Clarksburg, W. Va., Aug. 29.—Telegrams received by relatives here today announced the marriage of former U. S. Senator Nathan Goff of this city and Miss Katherine Penny, nurse, in New York, last night. Mr. Goff is 79 years old and his bride less than 40.

GOMPERS AND WILSON CANVAS LABOR SITUATION

President is Asked to Intervene in Steel Workers Dispute

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—After two days of conferences with other officials of the American Federation of Labor President Samuel Gompers, who returned from Europe this week rather unexpectedly discussed the labor situation over the country with President Wilson today at the White House. No announcement was made on behalf of the president and Mr. Gompers and the union officials who accompanied him, including representatives of the steel workers, steadfastly refused to discuss what had transpired. It is known, however, that the president was asked to intervene in the dispute between the steel workers and the United States Steel corporation over wages, hours, working conditions and the right of collective bargaining.

Urges Men to Wait.
Before going to the White House the committee of steel workers made public a telegram to the council at Gary, Ind., in which they charged that the steel corporation was discharging union men at a number of its plants in an effort to force the strike issue before the president could act. The men were urged not to strike until all efforts at a peaceful settlement had been made.

The federation's executive committee held two sessions during the day. The utmost secrecy was maintained but it was understood that a number of labor disturbances over the country were discussed, with particular attention given to the situation as it affects railway and steel workers.

Following Wilson's Suggestion.
Some officials saw in the messages sent to the railroad shippers yesterday and to the steel workers today a disposition on the part of the labor leaders to follow the suggestion of President Wilson that the matter of wages and working conditions be held in abeyance until the government agencies had had time to carry out their program looking to a reduction of living costs and a general restoration of conditions to something approaching normal.

While the federation chiefs were meeting with the president, the labor situation was discussed at the capitol.

Senator Poindexter, Republican, Washington, urged speedy action on his resolution asking the president to call a conference between representatives of capital and labor. Chairman Konyon of the senate labor committee said the house and senate committees plan joint action.

SAYS BAKER FOSTERED PREJUDICED PROBES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Fostering of unfair and prejudiced investigations of army court martial practices thru "packed" bodies of inquiry, were charged to Secretary Baker and Judge Advocate General Crowder today by Samuel T. Ansell, former acting judge advocate general.

Resuming his statement before the senate military sub-committee Ansell declared that the inquiries made by the American Bar association committee, Inspector General Chamberlain and the army tribunal headed by Major General Kernan were "biased" and that recommendations in favor of the existing court martial procedure were a foregone conclusion.

SENATE CONFIRMS PALMER NOMINATION
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—In an executive session which lasted two hours and a half, the senate tonight without a record vote confirmed the nomination of A. Mitchell Palmer to be attorney general.

Confirmation of Mr. Palmer's nomination terminated a fight which began last session and which grew out of criticism of his administration of the office of alien property custodian.

Opposition to his nomination resulted in blocking action upon it at the close of last session, but when the present session convened, President Wilson again sent it to the senate. At the request of Senator Frelinghuysen, Republican, New Jersey, it was referred to the judiciary committee which appointed a sub-committee which held extensive hearings and later by unanimous vote favorably reported the nomination and exonerated the attorney general of any wrong doing in connection with the office of alien property custodian.

Strike Move Ties Up Peoria Street Cars

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 29.—Tieup of all street car lines in Peoria resulted tonight from the general sympathetic strike movement here when conductors and motormen ran their cars into the barns for fear of violence on the part of the strikers.

All the cars will be running tomorrow. R. W. Bailey, general superintendent of the company declared tonight. He said the street car men had acted without orders in running the cars into the barns, but admitted that they had done so because of fear of the strikers who were parading the street.

Officials of the street car men's union declared that the men will abide by the rules of their international organization which prohibits a strike.

"The men were simply afraid of bricks being thrown in the dark," Bailey said, while union officials predicted the men will return to work. In some cases, however, radicals among the street car men declared they will not return to work tomorrow. Preparations were being made tonight by Peoria merchants to have their help brought to work in automobiles tomorrow morning.

More than one thousand persons out on the general strike met at the Coliseum tonight and planned for a second parade here tomorrow afternoon. The line of march will be up along Moss avenue—"Millionaires Row"—and more than 2,000, the crowd which marched today, are expected to be in line tomorrow.

A committee of fifty strikers will visit the car barns tomorrow morning in an effort to dissuade the car men from taking out the cars.

Ice handlers joined in the strike this afternoon and there were no late deliveries of ice this afternoon.

Numerous conferences were held this afternoon and tonight between city officials, manufacturers and labor leaders. At the close of one of these conferences tonight, J. D. Loneragan, president of the Peoria trades and labor assembly declared that the general strike will fail.

"We've got them licked," he declared.

Dr. Altendorff's statements were published by the newspapers here, having been received from special correspondents in the United States.

Senior Bonillas is also instructed to deny all other assertions of Dr. Altendorff concerning the chief executive.

FINE AIRMEN FOR FLYING TOO NEAR ROOF

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 29.—On a charge of flying his airplane within ten feet of the roof of a farmer's house, Charles H. Levy today was fined $25 and costs for disturbing the peace in a justice court at Dodson, Mo.

The complainant Fred Hoenaman, a farmer living near a local aviation field said the aviator scared his family and frightened his stock. While Levy was admitted that no law on the statutes covered the case, Justice S. I. Farmstead declared that it was his opinion the aviator had disturbed the peace of the farmer and his family. Levy said he would appeal the case.

LA FOLLETTE HALTS LEASING BILL ACTION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Discussion by Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, of the oil land leasing bill again today prevented final action on the measure.

The Wisconsin senator yielded the floor late in the day after speaking twelve hours in three days against the measure, but announced that about two hours more would be required to conclude his speech.

Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, in charge of the bill, gave notice when the senate recessed until tomorrow that if a final vote was not reached by 6 o'clock tomorrow evening, he would ask a night session.

During his remarks the Wisconsin senator attacked the newspapers of the country, saying they were "controlled." After having made the charge several years ago, he said the newspapers "damned me for it and for a time they kept me out of their columns."

The president's plans call for speeches in thirty cities thruout the west, between the time he leaves here next Wednesday and his return to Washington Sept. 30.

While resolutions were being offered in the house by Republican members calling upon the president to abandon his tour and engage himself in Washington with domestic affairs of the nation, Republican senators who opposed the treaty met with Senator McCormick of Illinois. Nothing was finally decided and another conference will be held tomorrow after which it is expected a definite program will be announced.

Leaving Washington on a special train the president will swing thru the middle west, thence across the plain states to the Pacific Coast at Washington and down the coast as far as San Diego. On the return trip he will speak in Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee and Kentucky, his last address being at Louisville on Sept. 29.

A hearing was set for Sept. 8. Mr. Brennan said the wage demands were necessary to meet the high cost of living.

THE PEACE SLACKER.

The peace slacker has been well defined as the person who now fails to produce all that he can and who disturbs conditions by interfering with production. Slacker is a term that is evidently to stay with us, and undoubtedly there is a call for patriotism in peace days, just as was true in the war period.

GOOD WORDS FOR PACKERS.

Amidst all the criticism these must be cheering days for the packers. The hearings on the Kenyon bill have developed a long line of testimony as to the benefits that the packers furnish to commodity markets. In the belief of many of these witnesses a great blow would be struck at the rights of the people, or at least new financial burdens would be given them if thru a licensing system the government takes an active hand in the operation of the packing business.

DON'T PUSH DEMAND.

There is sound sense in the statement by the government official that the advice given the people to buy now for next year and avoid still higher prices is bad. Anybody knows on second thought that the way to make present prices higher is to strengthen the present demand. If people were to extensively follow the plan of buying now for two seasons, even if prices did not advance, all of the effect of the attack on the high cost of living would be lost.

GREAT OLD REMEDY FOR SKIN DISEASES

S. S. S. Clears Skin of Eruptions—Drives Poison From the System

Get it fixed in your mind that skin eruptions, Scrofula, Eczema, burning, itching skin, and all skin diseases are due entirely to impure and infected blood. If the trouble was on the outside of the skin, by simply washing and keeping it clean you could obtain relief—not even ointments, lotions, and salves would be necessary. Agree with us in this belief, and your trouble can be relieved—you are entirely restored to health. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable treatment that you can secure from your own druggist—it is a blood tonic that will purify your blood and cause a most decided abatement of your

MORE PAY DESERVED.
The general public will have no criticism of the proposed action to increase the pay of postal employees. This is to be done without the sanction of Postmaster General Burleson. The postal employee is rare indeed who does not give to the public faithful and efficient service, and the increase in pay given men and women in the department in the last few years have not been commensurate with the increases allowed to other employees.

PRECEPTS FOR TRAFFIC OFFICERS.

In instructing new policemen a Chicago judge has advised the men, "Don't overstep your authority. A few words of advice is often better than an arrest."

These sentences might well be addressed to the citizens of Jacksonville who have patriotically undertaken the work of assisting the regular police force of Jacksonville in the enforcement of laws, especially relating to traffic. The purpose of this citizens' movement is to bring about a better law observance, so there may be greater safety for those who ride and those who walk. The words of advice will no doubt first be given to offenders and in most cases they will be effective. In other instances the law provides the remedy.

PEACE AT HOME.

President Wilson is to start in the course of the next ten days on his speech making tour in behalf of the League of Nations. There may be some audiences where this question will be considered paramount but in the average American city, before the average American audience, the president will find that living costs and other home economic questions are considered the more important. World peace is a matter of concern but not nearly as of great concern as peace at home. Conditions seem to indicate that the president returned home from a seven months' stay abroad without really understanding the vast dissatisfaction developed and without appreciating just how serious a situation confronts both capital and labor.

It may be that when this speaking tour begins that the president will sense the feeling of the people and be thus induced to change the subject matter of his addresses.

THE ATMOSPHERE CLEARER.

The atmosphere has cleared greatly in the last forty-eight hours so far as strike prospects are concerned. There are two important factors in this betterment of conditions. Director Hines indicated that the government would take hold of the railroad strike situation in California in the way that a strong government would be expected to act in that the men who did not obey and return to work would be arrested and dealt with like any other offender against the law. Then came the influence of Samuel Gompers, who declares that labor is not fair to the government in demanding increased pay on the one hand and a reduction in living costs on the other. Mr. Gompers has extreme views on some subjects, but is undoubtedly a man of great foresight and wisdom. His influence just at present is of a very valuable kind.

"MEET THE ISSUES HEAD-ON."

Lieut. Col. Roosevelt who is on a speech making tour in the interest of the American Legion of Honor, an organization of American soldiers of the late war, is saying things that give forcible reminder that he is the son of his father. Reading paragraphs from the speeches he delivered in St. Louis, Springfield and other cities brings to mind also what a great force for good citizenship can eventually be found in the American Legion of Honor if the organization continues to be perfected according to the plans worked out.

Col. Roosevelt in characteristic way charges that present disturbances and outbreaks are due not to the rank and file of labor but to the extremes, to the radicals, to the Bolsheviks. He says that soldiers as private citizens are the men to meet these issues and that they will meet them "head on." This is a Roosevelt phrase, at least in its adaptation to the present situation, and gives earnest of the spirit in which all but radicals among American citizens will meet present issues.

PRICES HAVE BEEN HIGHER

While it is admitted prices of living are abnormally high and quite burdensome at present, it is left to the fact by way of solace that at least twice in the history of this country it cost more to buy food than it does now. An exchange has dug up a price list of 1865, after the civil war had closed. These are the figures:

Sugar, 29 cents a pound.
Starch, $1 a pound.
Tea, $1.75 to $12 a pound.
Salt, 35c a bag.
Rice, 17c a pound.
Blackberries, 45 cents a quart.
Kerosene, $1 a gallon.
Oatmeal, 4 pounds for 50 cents.
Most other groceries cost proportionately. How would anybody like to pay those prices now? Let it be remembered, too, that wages and salaries were much lower in 1865 than they are in 1919, comments an editor.

Another editor has found a price list covering the last year of the revolutionary war. Here it is:

Meat, $1 to $2 a pound.
Corn, $25 a bushel.
Potatoes, $10 a bushel.
Molasses, $12 a gallon.
Cheese, $2 a pound.
Butter, $3 a pound.
Sugar, $3 a pound.

In the year 1779 sugar rose to $4 a pound. In 1789, a year comparable with 1919, because it was the year the war ended and the year when the American Union or League of States was established, butter sold for $12 a pound and tea for $40. These prices, of course, must have been reckoned in depreciated currency. But it was the only currency in circulation and was no doubt as hard to get as present-day money, the same authority observes.

Maybe we are not so bad off after all, though there may be less reason now for the price level than there was in the years noted. The law of supply and demand was the price regulator then, while now it is ignored and necessities are in the hands of speculators and profiteers. There is ample supply of about everything the American people need were it regulated in the right way. However, the figures given are interesting.—Illinoisian-Star.

LABOR'S RESPONSIBILITY.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)
The Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor met in Washington yesterday for the most important conference in the history of that body. Great and grave questions are to be considered by the council, questions that involve not only the future of industry but the welfare of the people of the United States. The demands of the railway employees, with the possibility of a general railroad strike looming ominously in the background, and the threat of a strike by the workers of the United States Corporation which might include most of the steel workers of the country, would be alone sufficient to give this meeting extraordinary importance. Railway transportation, with the exception of agriculture, is the greatest industry in the United States. The steel industry is one of the most extensive and most essential. Yet the issues they present are greater than themselves. All industries are more or less concerned in the action of the Executive Council. And the whole nation is profoundly concerned, for the action of the council is likely to affect, for good or ill, the welfare of every individual population.

The main question before the council should be: What is our duty as American citizens? They are there as the chief representatives and officers of a class, and they are expected to serve that class honestly and loyally. But which is paramount, the interest of labor or the interest of the whole people? Can they serve labor best by precipitating a great public calamity for selfish ends and thereby separating labor from the rest of the people, making it an antagonistic and destructive element, opposing its power to the public welfare; or can they serve it best by taking the position that labor is of the people, a component part of the whole, and that the welfare of labor can be most surely advanced and secured by contributing to the general happiness and prosperity, thereby obtaining friendly co-operation for the attainment of the just desires of labor?

The Plumb plan bill is evidence that iniquitous forces are not without influence. But speaking generally genuine America labor is intelligent and patriotic. It fails in these qualities only when it is deceived by leaders whom it trusts, or is overwhelmed by elements that are not American. In proof of this we print some resolutions adopted last Saturday by a committee of ninety-three employees, representing the 30,000 workers of the Midvale Steel Company, one of the greatest steel concerns in the country, whose net earnings last year were over fifty millions:

Whereas, The high cost of living needs to be abated by diligent, efficient and conscientious labor, by thrift and by avoidance of waste and extravagance, and

Whereas, The price of commodities is regulated by the day's labor of a man and the real unit of value or the unit of compensation is not a dollar, but the purchasing price of a dollar, and that the price of all things, meaning the average price of everything we use and consume, which is commonly referred to as the average price of commodities, is fixed, regulated, raised or lowered by the average compensation received for one hour's work by every man and every woman, and

Whereas, We believe the only sure remedy for the high cost of living is increased production and the stabilization of prices in conformity with wages now being paid, and men employed in all classes and kinds of industries for a shorter day's work and an increased wage in order to meet the present high cost of living is uneconomic and unwise and should not be encouraged.

This, we assert, is both intelligent and patriotic. It points plainly to the measures that alone can restore the economic balance, production and economy.

Rippling Rhymes By Walt Mason

SEPTEMBER AGAIN
Oh, cut out the sighing, for summer is dying, September is here at the gate; September's winning has come for an inning, and August is pulling its freight. The summer's a season that's based upon reason, it's good for the corn and the wheat, without it the granger would soon be a stranger, and we would have nothing to eat. The summer is needed; the fields that are seeded without it would fail to produce; and so we must bear it, this season of merit, while sizzling away in our juice. Although it is splendid we're glad when it's ended, we're tired of its charms, we admit; with laughter we wriggle, and dance and jiggle, when summer goes ticket-split. Our horses are roasted, our whiskers are toasted, we're baked and we're poached and we're fried; we long for cool breezes, and Autumn, she eases the burden to which we've been tied. Oh, welcome September! I seem to remember we had a September last year; and she was a hummer that followed the summer and filled our old bosoms with cheer. Oh, she was a daisy with distances hazy and zephyrs that hinted of frost, with nights that were chilly—not sizzling and silly; I boost her, regardless of cost!

MURRAYVILLE MAN INJURED IN RUNAWAY

Andrew Reid Receives Severe Bruises When Wagon Tongue Drops — Horses Injured — Wagon and Harness Damaged.

Murrayville, August 29.—Andrew Reid, a farmer residing four miles south of Murrayville received severe bruises when a team of horses he was driving became frightened and ran away near the south limits of town this afternoon.

Mr. Reid in company with Charles Wagstaff was driving to Murrayville. Just at the south limits of the village the tongue of the spring wagon dropped from the neckyoke. The horses became frightened and ran away. Mr. Wagstaff saved himself by jumping. Mr. Reid held to the lines and was thrown from the wagon, striking on his head and shoulders. He held to the lines until they broke and was dragged some distance. He received severe bruises about the head and body and it is not known as yet whether or not there are internal injuries.

The injured man was taken to the office of Dr. J. H. Spencer who gave him the necessary medical attention and then took him to his home where he was resting comfortably tonight. Mr. Reid is about 60 years old and his injuries will confine him to the house for several days.

The spring wagon to which the team was hitched was wrecked and the harness also was broken and damaged. The horses were caught before they suffered any injury.

What Is Your Pet Economy?

There are scores of ways in which to beat the high cost of life. Every woman has one or more pet economies, especially since it has become so hard to make the income stretch over the necessities of life.

How do you outwit the H. C. L.? Do you bake your own bread and find it economical? Do you make over garments? Do you do something to make money in the hours you used to give to the Red Cross or other war work? Do you coax your garden into yielding a pretty fair share of the food for your table, both winter and summer?

What preparations are you making to combat shortages of food stuffs and other necessities, and high prices, during the coming winter?

The Journal would like to hear from its readers, both town and country, on this subject. The letters should contain stories of personal experience or thoughtful suggestions for easing the burden of the pocketbook. Write anything up to 200 or 300 words.

Playing the Game Fair

Editor Journal: There is much being written about the high cost of living and a greater part of the propaganda directed toward prices of food products and very little is being said about the prices of gowns, picture hats, decorated hostery, fancy colored shoes, silk shirts and numerous other luxuries which could be substituted with plainer, more substantial and naturally cheaper articles of clothing. The demand for excessive articles of dress has created a condition which may be termed the "cost of high living."

The wage earners don't want to make the first move toward putting the high cost of living on the toboggan by accepting less pay. Producers of food can't take the initiative by lowering prices on their products for that would result in financial disaster to them.

The manufacturer cannot lower prices on his products unless there is a reduction in everything entering into production costs such as: Canning machinery, shipping cases, nails and the raw materials. A decline in the finished product without a decline in raw materials can only be accomplished by forcing the manufacturer to sell their products at low cost of production.

What a splendid thing it would be if every individual would take simultaneous action looking to the lowering of costs and therefore prices. And along with that practice thrift and economy.

And when the Great Scores comes to write against our name He writes, not that you won or lost—but how you played the game. W.

The Washer

That Takes the Wash Out of Washing

The Only Low Price Practical Washing Machine

Why You Should Use a National Vacuum Washer
BECAUSE: It washes much quicker, does it much cleaner and with a great deal less work to the operator.

Why Does it Wash Cleaner
BECAUSE: by the vacuum principle the dirt is all forced OUT instead of rubbing part of it into the fabric.

Why Does it Wash Quicker
BECAUSE: the rapid action of the dasher driving the hot water and suds through the solid clothes forces the dirt out. The agitation of the hot water makes the dirt respond immediately. Two to six minutes will remove the dirt from any fabric that can be cleaned with soap and water.

Why with Less Work to the Operator
BECAUSE: by the vacuum principle it requires only power to handle the water, not the clothes. This eliminates the wear on the fabric and makes the machine run much easier.

In order to fully appreciate the real value of THE NATIONAL VACUUM WASHER, YOU MUST GIVE IT A TRIAL.

COL. CHIPPERFIELD IN PATRIOTIC ADDRESS STIRS HUNDREDS

Speaks Forcefully of Impressions of Germany While Serving With Army of Occupation—Asserts Germany Does Not Feel Defeat—Urges Preparedness in Time of Peace—Opposes League of Nations.

After the grand concert by the Boston Sextette, Mr. Collins, the platform manager, introduced Col. B. M. Chipperfield as "a returned soldier of whom Illinois is most proud."

Col. Chipperfield began his address by asserting his pride in the fact that he was one of the first Americans across the German line. A man of splendid physique, he said that he had assured the Germans who were curious to know what the American soldier was like, that he was one of the smallest.

He led up to his story of things and conditions seen in Germany by showing that there was a message and conclusions to be drawn from the war stories that people might want to forget.

Praises Morgan County Men
He was the first reserve officer called to the colors in the U. S. His duties took him to the office of the provost marshal general. When there, he was sent to Illinois to assist in assembling soldiers and saw that the counties collected the national army by the new system devised. He stated that in all the state, no county brought its soldiers to the colors with a better record than Morgan.

At this place he paid tribute to the Morgan county veterans of the Civil War and said they had been the inspiration of the members of the A. E. F. He asked that they might long be spared to teach the lessons of liberty to oncoming generations.

Criticized Censorship
Col. Chipperfield sailed for France with the 33rd division and was sent to the front two days after his arrival there. He served with this fighting unit until the armistice was signed. He was then sent into Germany against his will, but as he said, no healthy remembrance was possible in the army, and that a soldier had to obey orders and keep his mouth shut. He thinks that censorship may have been carried too far and that the people at home should have known where the boys were. There was no reason why the boys in hospitals should not have had mail at regular times, for the Germans' elaborate spy system knew exactly where they were. At the time the 33rd division went over the top with the British, two correspondents with the division wrote the story to send home. The army censor blue penciled it and the papers in the U. S. merely stated that a certain division had engaged with the enemy. He stated that these stories were kept down because some did not want their glory dimmed by the achievements of other men.

Huns Wanton Destruction
Continuing his story of his wonderful experiences in Germany Col. Chipperfield told of a cordial welcome extended the American army in the territory of France that had been occupied by Germans. Here he saw the injury and despoliation done by the Huns. They had destroyed for mere love of destroying, and there was evidence that they had become depraved to the last degree by the horrible warfare in which they were engaged.
Col. Chipperfield told of the destruction of cathedrals at Amiens and Rheims and said that no story had been written that in any way exaggerated the horror of this devastation. It was interesting to note that the colonel had seen no child mutilated in this region. In Alsace-Lorraine there was a difference in the reception given the army for there, part of the people were Germans. They made no demonstration but the French, who had lived there for years under German government, gave evidence of delight and hung out French flags.

Col. Chipperfield's story became even more interesting when he pictured the change in the attitude of the Germans toward the army of occupation. At first they retired to their homes, expecting the same treatment they had meted out to countries they had invaded, but they soon learned that the American occupation was fair.

ADVOCATES PREPAREDNESS

Col. B. M. Chipperfield

"The only friend the United States has is the good strong arm of the United States."

and just. They began to ask assistance from the American army that they never would have asked from the German government. The American soldiers began to make love to the German girls but there was never an hour that an American forgot he was on enemy soil and was ready to shoulder arms and subjugate Germany if she refused peace.

Have Hatred in Hearts
Col. Chipperfield stated that the German people did not feel that they had been conquered, and that their returning army had been met with tokens of victory. Their hearts are still full of hatred and they are ready to renew the war at the first opportunity and to treat France as before. The colonel said the children in Germany are filled with the spirit of militarism. The boys march to school as soldiers and play and think in military terms. He told of seeing four year old German boys salute for the mere joy of saluting.
"Now is the time of salvation for civilized nations and the only friend the United States has is the good strong arm of the United States," said Col. Chipperfield. He denounced conscientious objectors and the way the government dealt with them, and urged preparedness of the strictest order.

He saw no American made aeroplanes on the battlefield. There were plenty of American aviators but the machines were of foreign makes. In one bombardment 6,000 cannon were fired and not one of them of American manufacture.

Gives Allies Credit
Col. Chipperfield gave all the allies credit for winning the war, saying that France and England held the Germans until the United States came to turn the tide in favor of the allies. He said it was true that many German people have starved and that they have eaten dog and horse meat, and that he has seen them pay 4,600 marks for a horse to eat that had been condemned by the A. E. F. In spite of this, workmen are well paid and factories ready to run. The Germans are not comprehending the attitude of the American people.
Col. Chipperfield denounced the fact that mercantile interests in this country will take a German article if it is cheaper in preference to the American manufactured article.

Opposes League of Nations
In commenting on the League of Nations, the colonel was opposed to the league as it now stands because it would let Germany in and let her vote on what the United States would do. He thought that England would have too many votes and ridiculed England's high opinion of herself. He characterized Japan as the Shylock of the world, and said she entered the war on the side of the highest bidder.
"Let's not, as helpers of the oppressed, give the millions of China to Japan," he said.

Col. Chipperfield at the end of his speech appealed to all Americans to keep the flag unsullied, to help America to continue the leadership of the world at this parting of the ways, and read in conclusion "In Flanders Field," and "America's Response."

Friday Evening

The audience which gathered in the evening was well entertained. After some work in the way of securing subscriptions for season tickets for next season, Mr. Collins, platform manager, introduced the Bostonia Sextette club for the last performance of that distinguished body of musicians. While the work of these musicians is generally of the classical order they varied their program, last evening and gave more of the lighter strains which gave fine satisfaction. Miss Nora May Lampert sang with fine effect a selection entitled "The Wind's in the South" and was rewarded with two hearty encores to which she graciously responded. Her second appearance was also well received. She sang first a Spanish song, "My Love is a Muleteer" and was loudly encored. Mr. Murray gave on the violin a humorous and was encored and Mr. Lewis a cello solo which was also encored. By special request the company repeated a medley of southern songs which they had played the afternoon before and which the leader remarked had been especially written for the sextette and had been given with great success from Maine to Texas and from coast to coast. The familiar strains of "Swanee River," "My Old Kentucky Home," "Dixie" and others greatly pleased the audience.

Pro. O. L. Manchester

Prof. O. L. Manchester was the speaker of the evening and while his theme, "The Problem of Prices," was not as popular as some the effort abounded in wise suggestions and good advice well worth hearing. He said in part: The dean of the state normal university once remarked: "While the evolutionist may discuss whence we came and the theologian whither we are going, the fact remains that we are here. So, no matter what the cause or the remedy, we are painfully aware that prices are uncomfortably high at present. When the railroad men served notice that they must have an increase in wages, the league of nations took a second place in the interest of the people. This problem of high prices is not at all new. Henry the VIII., sought to help things along a little by clipping a piece from each shilling coined and thus adding to the volume of currency but immediately prices rose and when he called in an eminent political economist and financier and asked him what was the matter said "Your Majesty; call in those clipped shillings and restore their full value and let it be known that the promise of England is 100 per cent. Other nations tried much the same thing in different ways and until a comparatively short time ago a man could use only London exchange when traveling in foreign countries.
Time was when a pound meant a Troy pound of metal. All sorts of devices have been used for currency; tobacco has been tried and many other substances. Currency is something a person doesn't expect to use but to pass it on for something he needs. In the days of the revolution the notes fell to such a low standard that the word "not worth continental" arose, meaning that the things was worthless.
Before the Civil War there were all manner of banks and a business man had to spend a good part of his time studying the detector to see what the money offered him was worth. Then came the greenbacks and so much did people doubt the ability of the government to redeem them that they depreciated to 34 cents in gold at one time.
Hard times were used as an excuse for an issue in 1896 and politicians told us that the remonetization of silver would cure all evils. In the east where the creditor class lived they were told that the free coinage of silver would cause it to appreciate to the value of gold and in the west the debtor class were told that they could pay their debts in fifty cent dollars and the idea was very captivating for a time till people had time to study into the fallacy of the doctrine.
By 1900 when people had found they couldn't pass the free silver issue they turned their attention to the production of gold and the free silver plank in the Democratic platform that year had little weight.
At the beginning of the war it was deemed wise to establish federal reserve banks which resulted in a large inflation of currency and the inevitable increase in prices followed. Then, too, owing to the devastation which Europe has suffered prices are inevitably high there, which most similarly affect our markets.
An irredeemable currency would be alright if held within bounds but no human body of lawmakers could be relied on to do this and hence it would always be unwise.
Our country must get down to some basic principles. Take the case of extravagance. The titled few revel in luxury and wealth and the peasant class well night ate the grass they trod for sustenance, as was the case in France before the first commune. We must face some plain truths. So many look to laws to correct all evils and think that with congress lies the solution of our troubles when it is largely with ourselves. The windows of a fashionable ladies' garments dealer contained dresses for $1,800 each. At a banquet in New York young bloods spent fifty dollars a plate.

In an eastern cemetery there is a million dollar monument to a rich man and it is unnoticed while not far was once a humble stone over the grave of a man so revered that it was chipped away and a new one had to be put up and protected by an iron fence. That man was Washington Irving.

We must learn greater economy and increased production. It must be taught in the home; in the school; in the counting room; in fashion plate and everywhere and not expect law to do it.
When a young man I taught school in Vermont, that staunch prohibition state, and yet the young men in my school were habitual drinkers and sometimes to excess; so much for laws.

Ignorance is the prime cause of human misery. Men properly educated will not strike and make trouble without good cause but will study into the questions at issue.

We must work everlastingly and produce more and learn to spend less. We are too much a spendthrift nation. There is too much wealth in the hands of a few. The masses do not save, practice thrift and economy, but hasten to spend their earnings and the inevitable result is that the money goes into the hands of a few. We must be more thrifty, intelligent and economical. A farmer once thought to buy a power pump that would generate its own power and automatically, like the man who thinks a law enacted will cure all evils. We must attend primaries, choose best men for office and act with intelligence and affairs will be much improved.

CHARGED WITH SPEEDING

Leland Henderson was arrested by the police Friday on the charge of violating the traffic ordinance. The complaint was made by Dr. W. B. Young and J. T. Hoffman. It is charged that Henderson ran into the rear of Dr. Young's car and did considerable damage. The witnesses stated that he was traveling at a high rate of speed.

Henderson was arraigned in Justice Dyer's court and fined $25 and costs. He told the court that the cause of the collision was the slippery condition of the pavement from the rain.

SEEK BETTER TRAFFIC LAW OBSERVANCE

CITIZENS ARE APPROVED AS SPECIAL OFFICERS

At Conference Friday Night Signed Agreements to Co-Operate in Work—Judge Samuel Explained Laws—Will Be Popular Movement.

When a traffic citizen-official steps up to you and calls your attention to some violation of the state law or city ordinance, don't be puffed. This volunteer officer, who has been duly commissioned and has given bond for the faithful performance of his duty, is merely seeking a matter of public welfare and the better observance of traffic law in Jacksonville.

A meeting was held at the city council chamber last night by the members of the council and citizens with fifty men present. Judge Paul Samuel presided and Mayor Crabtree served as secretary. Judge Samuel gave a review of the state law with special reference to automobile travel and by the question and answer method a better understanding of the law resulted.

Officers Take Oath.
The following men took the oath as special traffic officers. Each one gave bond and it is only reasonable to expect that much more thorough observance of traffic requirements will result. The new officers are: Lloyd Brown, W. B. Young, W. G. Benson, T. C. MacVicar, P. P. Thompson, H. C. Clement, Simeon Fernandes, T. M. Tomlinson, R. F. Thompson, Frank Sullivan, T. H. Buckthorpe, Frank Cannon, Leo McGinnis, Walter Schrag, William Newman, Jr., Gus Waltman, L. B. Haynes, Walter Huff, John W. Baptist, Harrison King, Carl Hook, Walter Ayers, A. L. Taylor, Harry Hoffmann, John N. Kennedy, Clarence York, J. W. Walton, Carl Graubner, Roy Scott, L. B. Turner, Mason Rowe, Roy Craig, Louis Leurig, T. S. Martin, Spencer Self, D. J. Staley, O. A. Morris, A. W. Becker, H. J. Capps, Burley Jones.

These men are to serve by wards under captains:

First Ward—T. M. Tomlinson.
Second Ward—L. B. Turner.
Third Ward—R. F. Thompson.
Fourth Ward—T. C. MacVicar.

More Will Be Named.

While the new officials have full police authority, it is not expected that they will exert this authority until other means have failed in bringing about traffic observance. In other words, it is to be a campaign of education. The list of names does not comprise all the men who are to serve as a number of them were unable to attend the meeting last night, but have signified their willingness and desire to be associated in the work. At a later time a complete list of the traffic officials will be published.

The state law provides a speed limit of ten miles per hour in the business district and on motion of Alderman George Moore, with a second by Frank Sullivan, this district for Jacksonville was bounded on the west by Church street, on the north by the Wabash railroad, east by Clay avenue and south by College street.

In reviewing the law Judge Samuel called special attention to the frequent violations of the law with reference to glaring lights. The speed provisions were also emphasized and the general traffic requirements. T. M. Tomlinson was the first citizen to accept appointment as special traffic officer and for a number of days past he has been engaged in calling attention of people to traffic laws as the occasion has arisen.

People Readily Respond.

Mr. Tomlinson said last night that at least 25 cases had come under his observation within a week and in no single instance did the person take exception to having the law violation explained. Mr. Tomlinson said that when he accepted the office he did so in good faith because he had promised to be of any service he could to Mayor Crabtree. He said that some of his friends thought he had made a mistake and would make enemies by his zeal for law enforcement. The speaker said that he had no thought of making himself obnoxious to people by his zeal for traffic law enforcement, that he believed the people generally were just as much interested in the law observance as he is himself.

He said further that he felt that any citizen who was not sincerely interested in the traffic work proposed should not take a commission, that it is not a matter for pussy footing.

A Popular Movement.

Mayor Crabtree suggested that this movement was not distinctive of Jacksonville because in Chicago there is a like association with 1,500 members. The plan has been tried out successfully at Pipestone, Minn., and in a number of other cities. "You fifty men here can create a sentiment for traffic law observance which could come in no other way. Instead of having people object to your action, you can popularize the movement and that is exactly what I believe will happen. The public will look with favor upon your willingness to serve. I have found that the great majority of people in Jacksonville are very willing to do that which seems best for the city and you will find the same thing true in this case."

Brief remarks were also made by O. A. Morris, Roy Scott, Walter Huff, Simeon Fernandes and Chief of Police Kiloran.

The new traffic officials with the others who are to join their ranks will hold meetings at stated times for the exchange of experiences and for general conference.

BALLOON PUTS WIRES OUT OF BUSINESS

Strange Balloon Falls on Burlington Telegraph Wires North of Virden After Remaining There An Hour Left for Parts Unknown—Put Wires Out of Commission.

Friday a strange balloon fell on the telegraph wires of the Burlington railroad about two miles north of Virden.

The balloon and occupant remained on the wires for over an hour and then left for parts unknown. While the balloon was on the wires it put the train dispatchers out of business. Two of them were compelled to work between Beardstown and Paducah, Ky., on one wire.

Where the balloon came from is a mystery and also where it went is just as great a mystery. Railroad officials were unable to get a line on where it belonged. There was no permanent damage done aside from stopping train dispatching work for a time.

Pointed Paragraphs

A man's idea of having his room cleaned is to have his belongings placed where he cannot find them.

As we understand the complaint of the actors that they are underpaid, the cost of living and one curtain are the only two things in their lives that have gone up.

The dealer who bases his price of old stock on what new stock would cost him evidently feels that when the drop comes he won't have any choice about the matter.

If people weren't so busy wrestling with the high cost of living they might feel the hardship resulting from the actors' strike more.

You can't judge the size of a man's purse by the model of his automobile.

Some careless automobile drivers were recently fined. They must have been careless to slip up that badly.

The chautauqua campers enjoyed their first touch of real camp life early Friday morning during the rain storm.

NEW APPOINTMENTS AT ILLINOIS COLLEGE

Trustees of College Make Additional Appointments to Those Announced Last Spring.

In addition to the new appointments which were announced at commencement time the trustees of the college have recently made a few additional appointments. Professor Sherman S. Leavitt of the department of chemistry resigned recently in order to go into commercial work, as many other teachers of chemistry have been doing in recent years. Professor Leavitt has been with the college for about eight years. During that time he has made the department of chemistry one of the strongest departments of the college. The trustees have appointed to succeed him W. S. Leavenworth of Olivet, Michigan. Professor Leavenworth is a man of excellent training and very extensive experience as a teacher. A graduate of Syracuse university, he has taken post-graduate work at Harvard university and at the University of Chicago. He was for twelve years professor of chemistry and physics at Ripon college, Wisconsin and for about an equal time professor of chemistry at Olivet college, Michigan. The exigencies of the war and other circumstances produced an unsettled condition at Olivet college and therefore Professor Leavenworth was ready to make a change. The trustees have every reason to believe that Professor Leavenworth will maintain the high standards which have characterized the work in the chemistry department.

Miss Akers Resigned.

Miss Marian Akers, instructor in Latin and English, resigned about the middle of the summer to accept a position on the faculty of Denison university at Granville, Ohio. The trustees have appointed to this vacancy Miss Flora M. Taylor, a graduate of Northwestern university at Evanston. Miss Taylor has also studied at the Northern Illinois Normal school and the Syracuse university, New York. She held a fellowship in classical languages at Northwestern and also was elected to honorary Phi Beta Kappa society in that institution. She taught Latin last year in the Pana Township high school and the authorities of that school were anxious to have her return, but she preferred to take up college work.

New Librarian.

A new librarian has also been appointed to the college. She is Miss Adelle E. McQuiston of Wilmington, Delaware. Miss McQuiston has been for several years assistant librarian and librarian of the Bloomington Normal school at Bloomsburg, Pa. In addition to her training as a librarian, Miss McQuiston is greatly interested in music, having been a student at the Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music.

Registration Days.

Registration days in all departments of the college will occur Monday and Tuesday, September 15 and 16th. It is expected that Director W. E. Krith of the Conservatory will return to his office the coming week. Charles H. Keep, the new head of the voice department is already in town with his family. Mr. Keep will be the director of the music of the Christian church for the coming year.

Returning to College.

Several additional students who have been in the service have recently expressed their intentions of returning to college. They include Earl Stephenson, Robert V. Shaw and Russel Bronson.

President Rammelkamp will be glad to get into communication with any families who may wish to employ student labor during the year. A large number of the young men who are coming to college are looking for opportunities to earn part of their expenses by doing chores of one kind and another.

Mrs. Ogden Returns.

Mrs. Ogden, head of Academy hall, returned to town last Thursday. Mrs. Ogden has returned somewhat earlier than usual in order to make preparations for the unusually large number of girls who will be at the hall this year. Mrs. Ogden spent a very pleasant summer in the mountains of Colorado.

Professor George R. Poage of the history department spent a day in town last week, coming over from his home in Paris, Mo. The reappointment of W. T. Harmon as coach has stirred up considerable interest and enthusiasm among the students and
